

Many of us watched yesterday's Super Bowl football game. The halftime show produced by MTV and the part executed by Janet Jackson and Justin Timberlake was shameful, in the least and hopefully illegal, at the best!

National TV was an innapropriate venue for their playmaking. We trust your agency will excercise whatever discipline is available against these persons, their respective corporate umbrellas and against MTV.

It's time to put an end to this madness.

Respectfully,
Gerald Pitman